Chouteau Island return is limited

Some are upset over regulations on rebuilding

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

Steve Burger tried to haul his mobile home away before the Mississippi River flooded Chouteau Island on July 8. But the tongue broke off and the mobile home — like everything else on the island — ended up spending more than a month under water.

According to a fact sheet issued by the Madison County Building, Zoning and Environmental Department, the broken trailer tongue may have cost Burger more than his mobile home. He may have lost his home site as well.

"Under the rules the county lists — they don't say whose rules these are — if a mobile home was pulled to safety it can be returned," Burger said.

"But if the mobile home was destroyed, the mobile home cannot be replaced and the county will not grant a special-use permit for a new mobile home."

FEMA answers queries...2A

Burger also lost a garage in the flood. As he understands the rules, his replacement garage, like every other permanent replacement structure on the island, will have to be built on stilts 17 feet high.

"I don't have to tell you that that doesn't make a lot of sense," he said.

Burger and other residents of Chouteau Island met at the Chouteau Township Building on Saturday in an attempt to make some sense of the rules and regulations governing a return to their homes.

"We asked the county and other local governments to send someone to answer questions, but no one came," Burger said.

"We wanted them to explain just whose laws these are and what we can do about it," he said. (See CHOUTEAU, Page 8A)

Laub tells employees of possible layoffs

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Granite City Township Assessor Darlene Laub has given notice to seven of her nine employees that they may be laid off at the end of this month.

But Laub and her attorney, Mark Levy, are still hopeful that no personnel cuts will be necessary in the office.

"We just want to forewarn these employees in case something has to happen. We are taking the aldermen at their word that they will revise the budget if we can show the inaccuracy of the figures on which these cuts were based," Levy said.

Last week, more than halfway through the township's fiscal year, the aldermen cut the assessor's budget by more than $100,000 — almost 25 percent.

The cuts were made based on an analysis by some of the aldermen that showed that assessments cost $33.16 per parcel in Granite City Township — far more than in Wood River Township ($17.10 per parcel), Alton Township ($18.14), Collinsville Township ($11.46) or Edwardsville Township ($9.33).

Alderman Craig Tarpoif, a member of the Finance Committee, came up with a $319,000 budget figure, cut from Laub's request of $420,000, by using the Wood River — another highly industrial township — cost-per-parcel figure ($17.10).

He applied that cost to the number of parcels in Granite City (12,684), and pro-rated the figure for the remainder of the year.

Laub and Levy, who said that the figures are meaningless because a "parcel" is not a uniform unit of measure, are to meet Monday night with the aldermanic Finance Committee to discuss the situation.

"To allege that this office is not cost-effective is a gross disservice to the hard-

Deadline for Old Newsboy funds Oct. 13

There is still time for agencies in the greater St. Louis area to apply for a 1993 Old Newsboys Day grant.

For 38 years Old Newsboys Day funds have been available to help local charities that serve children. These agencies have until Oct. 13 to submit an application to share in the 1993 Suburban Journals Newsboys Day funds.

To receive an application, agencies should send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to: Old Newsboys Day Application, c/o Suburban Journals, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131. Applications must be submitted or postmarked by Oct. 13 to be considered for this year's funds.

Old Newsboys Day is set for Nov. 18. On that day, thousands of volunteers will man street corners, selling special editions of the Suburban Journals. All the money collected from the sale is distributed to charities.

Since the drive began, more than $5 million has been raised to help area children.

Bowles won't seek re-election as clerk

By Shay Wessol
Staff writer

After a lifetime of public service, Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles announced Tuesday she will not seek re-election.

"I have given this a lot of thought and I have prayed on it," Bowles, 72, said. "I will not be a candidate for re-election for county clerk in 1994. Nor will I be a candidate for any other election. I plan to take a little time for Evelyn now."

Her term ends in 15 months, 43 years after she first walked into the clerk's office for a two-week stint to help out with some typing. Bowles never left, and she was first elected county clerk in 1974.

"This has been my niche. I think," she said. "I love this office. It's been my life."

Now, the announcement that she is leaving brings "blessed relief," she said. "I have ground this decision around and thought on it and prayed on it for about two months," she said.

The news of her retirement shocked the 25 members in her office and brought tears to many eyes.

"It's been a surprise," said Dorothy Kline, Bowles' right-hand woman at County Board meetings. "We thought she'd go on forever."

Her decision comes at a time of great upheaval in the county clerk's office, responsible for all elections and voter registration, keeping of vital records, the tax cycle, delinquent taxes, assessed values and county payroll.

New legislation, including the nationwide motor voter bill, is expected to bring sweeping change and complexities to the office.

"This office — and I say this in all sincerity — this office is so complex and there are so many changes in the hopper," Bowles said. (See BOWLES, Page 2A)

Warrior varsity football team manager Patti Munoz lays out football jerseys for team members to pick up before their first game.

Returning home Warriors' first home game Friday

The Warrior football team will take a 1-1 record into its home opener Friday, a Southwestern Conference game against Belleville West.

The Warriors, coached by Don Harris, opened their record last Friday with a 27-6 win at Quincy. Granite City opened the season with a 20-6 loss at Cahokia.

"We've had two long road games, and we're looking forward to playing at home," Harris said. "I think the kids are looking forward to it."

Last year, it took four weeks for the Warriors to earn their first win. But Harris, now in his second year, guided Granite City to its second-week comeback victory against Quincy. The Warriors scored 27 straight points after giving up an early touchdown to Quincy, which fell to 6-2.

Tailback Ron Fisher rushed for 147 yards and two touchdowns. Quarterback Donald Harris, the coach's son, passed for 101 yards and ran for Granite City's other touchdown.

"Hopefully, we can build on it and take it into conference (play)," Harris said. Friday's 7:30 p.m. home contest will be the first of just four on the year for Granite City. The Warriors will also be at home next week against Collinsville.

Abandoned site remains in legal limbo

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

After a salvage company stripped it of everything of value in 1990, the former Jenson-Wright site in West Granite was left to rot in bureaucratic limbo.

"It's an eyesore, a mess and dangerous," said 4th Ward Alderman Dan Partney.

"There's junk piled all over. There are tanks, falling-down buildings and all kinds of things to attract kids playing. It's a danger to the neighborhood."

And that danger assessment, Partney said, doesn't even include the potential health risks from the hazardous materials that caused the Illinois

Battal Environmental Protection Agency to seal the site in 1990 after problems with contamination forced Jenson-Wright into bankruptcy. The plant formerly treated wooden railroad ties and other timber products with creosote, now regarded as a cause of cancer.

Man charged in shooting of neighbor

A 28-year-old Granite City man has been arrested for allegedly shooting his neighbor in the back Friday night in a dispute over a loud muffler.

John W. Lindsey, of the 2200 block of Washington Avenue, was charged with aggravated battery with a firearm in a warrant issued Monday.

Lindsey was being held without bail.

Lindsey allegedly shot Carl C. Catlett, 40, a resident of the same block, in the back at about 9:30 p.m. while Catlett was driving a pickup truck in the neighborhood.

Lindsey and Catlett are acquaintances. This is apparently the result of an ongoing neighborhood feud over a loud muffler. Capt. Roy Koberna of the Granite City police department

FEMA answers flood aid queries

GRAFTON — Federal Emergency Management Agency spokesman Len DeCarlo was asked to answer some common questions. The questions and his answers follow.

Q: What are the different forms of federal aid available?
A: There are three primary forms of aid. The Disaster Housing Program does not have to be repaid. Individual and family grants also do not have to be repaid. You get $11,900 for serious unmet needs like clothing and furniture. Anyone who reaches the $11,900 limit will be referred to the Red Cross for further assistance if needed.

The Small Business Administration disaster loans are not only for businesses but are for personal property, too. A lender can borrow up to $20,000 to replace items in the home and up to $100,000 to repair or replace their home. The loans can go up to 30 years. Some business owners didn't lose property but did lose business and revenue, so they may need money to tide them over.

Q: What do I do if my home or business was damaged?
A: Apply for disaster assistance. Call (800) 462-9029 or for the hearing impaired (800) 462-7565 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., seven days a week. If the home can be made livable for less than $10,000, FEMA will pay for it. If the damage is more than $10,000 or not repairable, rental assistance is available for up to 18 months.

Q: Are there different buyout programs for property owners with flood insurance and those without?

A: Only people with flood insurance qualify for the 1982 Program, but there is only $5 million in the pot nationwide for this year so it's not a viable option. It would take a year and a half to get it.

You don't have to have insurance to qualify for the Hazard Mitigation Program. The federal government provides 50 percent, and the state matches it. The buyout is used to acquire the property and create open space in the flood plain. Another possibility is a Community Development Block Grant that comes from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Q: How long will it be before details are worked out for the buyouts?

A: We have a couple towns, such as Grafton, interested in applying for it. It will take awhile. It's not a short-term solution. People shouldn't sit and wait for it. They should decide whether they want to participate and if so buy outside the flood plain and wait for the program to come to pass.

Q: What is the 50 percent rule? How is my home's value determined and by whom?
A: If the damage to a home in the flood plain is more than 50 percent of its value, it must be elevated to 1 percent probability. That is the 100-year flood plain and wouldn't necessarily mean where the water was at this time. We have it mapped out. The building code enforcement officer of the local municipality will evaluate the home. It would be determined by the home's market value at the time of the flood or the repair costs. It's a gray area.

Q: Will damage to contents be covered? What about physical evidence (photos, material, etc.)

must I produce to prove losses?

A: If a person had flood insurance, possessions are covered. We can assume a person had possessions if they lived in a house, so proof is not necessary, but if a (Small Business Administration) loan inspector comes through, you'll probably have to show your losses. If you take out a loan or get an individual or family grant, you are required to take out flood insurance to protect against losses in the future. If you've already begun replacing items, save the receipts.

Q: How soon may I expect a determination as to whether property will be rebuilt or razed? Do I have a choice?
A: It depends on the local code enforcement officer. The municipality determines most of that. It's not a dictatorship. You have a choice whether you sell or not.

Q: What aid is available for temporary housing?
A: There is the 18 months maximum on rental assistance if you don't take the $10,000 to do repairs. You can't have both.

Q: Who can I call to check on status or get answers to questions?
A: The information hot line at (800) 820-1125 from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. It depends on the local code enforcement officer.

Q: What if I think the federal money for a buyout or rebuilding isn't enough? Is there an appeal process?
A: That will be negotiated. Normally when it comes to property acquisition, you reach an agreement or turn it down. I don't think it would reach an appeal. The worst thing is some agreement before a buyout would go into effect.

Q: If I'm bought out, what happens to my property? Who owns it then? Does it come off the tax rolls?

A: Your responsibility ceases when you're bought out. It becomes public land. The structure is destroyed and the municipality owns it. It comes off the tax rolls.

Q: If rebuilding, do I get a lump-sum check and make my own contracts?
A: You arrange for actual reconstruction, get the permits and hire the contractors. Use caution when hiring contractors. The structure is destroyed and the municipality owns it. It comes off the tax rolls.

Q: How will the buyout program work for uninsured property? When will details be available?

A: Possibilities exist, but there is no specific program for the uninsured. Local municipalities should be looking into other possibilities like the Community Development Block Grant.

Q: Can an uninsured property owner rebuild in the flood plain? If so, will there be federal aid for rebuilding?

A: Yes, if they are in a participating community. If the damage is over 50 percent of the value, they have to elevate the property. If the community is participating in the flood insurance program, we would not assist them.

Q: What should people do while they are waiting for details to be worked out?
A: They probably should quality for the rental assistance program.

Firefighters sponsor picnic, fire engine rally

By Jim Merkel
Staff writer

Fifty to 80 fire trucks representing a century of firefighting will be on display in Millstadt Saturday, at the first ever "Old Time Firefighters Picnic and Fire Engine Rally" sponsored by the Southwestern Illinois Firefighter's Association.

Firefighters from 59 paid and volunteer departments from St. Clair, Monroe, Clinton and Randolph counties, will participate in a fund raiser cosponsored by the Suburban Journals.

Sponsors besides Suburban Journals are Holten Meat Co., 7UP, Dr. Pepper Bottling, Show-Me's Restaurants, Illinois Budweiser distributors and Wehrberg Theatres. More than $16,000 has been pledged in advertising, food and giveaways, according to Art Jacobs, president of Southwestern Illinois Firefighter's Association.

Dennis Keck, a Millstadt firefighter and vice president of the Southwestern Illinois Firefighter's Association, said money raised will go toward firefighter training and fire prevention programs. Half the proceeds will be given to local fire departments and half to the Southwestern Illinois Firefighter's Association.

The event will be from 11 a.m. to midnight at the Liederkranz Park, off Illinois 163 (N. Jefferson Street) just north of the four-way stop at Illinois 163 and Illinois 158 (Washington Street).

The Waterloo German Band will entertain from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. Spur will provide live music starting at 6 p.m. and Brewer and Shipley starting at 6 p.m.

In addition, there will be a rescue helicopter demonstration sponsored by Barnes Hospital at 3 p.m.

Featuring food will include chicken, hamburgers, pork chops, fries and fish.

Dialysis Center changes hours

The Southwest Illinois Regional Dialysis Center, located on the second floor of the Binney Wing at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, 2100 Madison Ave., Granite City, has expanded its hours.

The new hours are 6 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Hours of operation on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will remain from 6 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The change is being made due to an increase in the number of patients served by the center and to better meet patient needs. The dialysis center treats chronic patients, who come in two to three times a week, for three to four hours of treatment per session.

The center also provides acute dialysis for SECM patients on an on-call basis. If the patient is in the Critical Care Unit, the center's staff can provide treatment through a portable dialysis machine. In other cases, the patient is brought to a special acute area in the dialysis center. The center is open six days a week, and only closes for three holidays a year.

Soccer group seeking help against vandalism

The Quad Cities Soccer Association is seeking the public's help in stemming a rash of vandalism and thefts at the association's complex in West Granite.

Maggi Dettwiler, vice president of the association, said the group is offering a cash reward to anyone providing information that aids in the arrest of those responsible for the damage.

She said the vandalism and thefts have hampered the not-for-profit association's efforts to improve its facilities, located adjacent to Prather School along Highway 3, over the last two years.

Most recently, fencing and fence posts have been taken and an advertising sign painted. That followed the theft of a $5,000 tractor in 1991 and the theft of new trees and lamps last year.

"We're talking $11,000 (loss) over the last three years," she said. "It's just getting to the point where you can't do anything out there."

A concession stand has been built, dusk-to-dawn lighting installed and new trees planted in the last few years, Dettwiler said.

But all those efforts have met with problems, she said. Shortly after the trees were planted, "people came out and dug up the trees," she said.

Vandals have also broken lamps, damaged the concession stand and stolen soda from the stand. "It's just getting way out of hand. We want it stopped," she said.

Anyone with information about the incidents is asked to call the association's hotline at 876-9000.

Shooting

said. Kierma said that the bullet, believed to have been fired from a 9-millimeter weapon, lodged near Catlett's spine between his shoulder blades.

Catlett was listed in stable condition at St. Elizabeth Medical Center Monday evening. The bullet had not yet been removed, a hospital spokesman said. While at the Emergency Room at SEMC Friday night, Catlett told a police officer that he had backed out of his driveway in a black 1979 GMC pickup truck and headed south on Niederrhein Avenue when he heard a gunshot and felt a pain in his back.

Catlett then drove the truck to the hospital to be examined, he told police.

Police said Monday that there were several witnesses to the alleged shooting, but that no weapon had yet been recovered.

Bowles

said. "To drop somebody on their head and say swim would be very difficult."

Bowles has been asked to run for several state and federal offices most recently state Sen. Sam Vadalabene's seat — but said she decided not to climb the political ladder.

"I thought seriously about running for another office, but then I thought, 'If you're going to do that why don't you stay where you are,'" she said. "Who'd cut my grass if I went to Washington, D.C.?"

to me. Politics is like comedy. There's a timing, and sometimes the timing just wasn't right."

Her record of public service is exemplary. She was a member of the U.S. Coast Guard's intelligence division, taught elementary school and won numerous awards for her dedication and community service. Most recently, Bowles was named the Suburban Journal's 1992 Woman of Achievement in the public service category.

Now, Bowles said she will stay in Madison County and will stay active in the community.

"I've just begun to feel that I own myself some time to do the things I want to do," she said.

SIUE to form new college Board abolishes four academic schools

CARBONDALE — Four academic schools will be abolished at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in favor of a new College of Arts and Sciences. The action, recommended by SIUE President Earl Lazerson, was approved by the SIU Board of Trustees Thursday. It will be effective July 1, 1995.

The schools are Fine Arts and Communications, Humanities, Sciences and Social Sciences.

The proposal provoked opposition among faculty, and the Faculty Senate had asked the board to postpone consideration.

Senate President Dickie Spurgeon told the board in July that faculty members had not been able to give the proposal the review it needed because of pressures related to the conversion of the academic calendar from quarters to semesters.

SIUE administrators said benefits of the restructuring would include reduced administration costs and better coordination of SIUE's general education program.

gram, the core classes required of all students.

The adopted motion included an amendment directing the SIUE president to work closely with the Faculty Senate to coordinate the restructuring.

In other action Thursday, the board:

- Approved a $463.5 million operating budget for the current fiscal year. The budget is 4.8 percent greater than last year's $442.2 million budget.
- Officials said state tax dollars are up only 2 percent this year and now account for only 37.5 percent of the total budget, but bonaproportioned funds will increase about 8 percent.
- The budget includes $116.7 million for SIUE.
- Approved a salary plan that will provide small raises for most university employees, retroactive to July 1.
- Faculty, administrative and professional staff and civil service employees at SIUE, SIU at Carbondale and the university's central administration will receive increases of 1.5 percent on average. Another 1 percent pay increase will be set aside to cover promotions, market adjustments and matching offers from other institutions.

The Legislature appropriated about half the money needed for the raises and the university will provide the rest.

- Approved two new programs at SIUE — a master of science degree in computing and information systems and a specialist degree program in school psychology.
- Approved award of contract totaling $11.4 million for a 500-bed student residence hall at SIUE. The general contractor is S.M. Wilson & Co. of Granite City.
- Approved for submission to the Illinois Board of Higher Education a report detailing projected long-term savings of $16.5 million through productivity improvements at SIUE, SIUC and the School of Medicine.

Food stamps OK'd for flood victims

The U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Illinois Department of Public Aid have initiated a special food stamp program, which began Aug. 26, further assure Illinois flood victims in 35 presidentially-declared disaster counties.

Madison and St. Clair counties are included.

Families adversely affected by the flood who resided in one of the presidentially declared disaster counties prior to flooding may apply. Families must apply in the county where they currently reside.

Applications will be accepted through Sept. 30, from 8:30 a.m.

to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, at each county public aid office.

USA and Illinois operated a temporary emergency food stamp program from July 13 through Aug. 13. During that time, approximately $1.5 million in food stamp benefits were issued, assisting 15,000 people in 5,000 Illinois households.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recognizes that Illinois families continue to need assistance while they dig-out and clean-up. This new transitional program is designed to meet those needs by waiving certain provisions, making it easier for food victims to qualify for benefits.

Food stamps can be used to purchase food for human consumption, but cannot be used to buy alcoholic beverages, tobacco products or non-food items.

Local public aid offices are:

Madison County: No. 16 Namecki Village Shopping Center in Granite City at 677-9200 or 608 W. St. Louis Ave. in East Alton at 238-1600.

St. Clair County: 320 N. Ninth St. in East St. Louis at 382-2300, 218 W. Main St. in Belleville at 277-8960 or 6800 Old Missouri Road in Centerville at 332-8900.

Annual March for Life is Saturday

On Saturday, Sept. 18, the Metro East Crisis Pregnancy Centers of Granite City and Alton/Godfrey will host their sixth annual March For Life at Wilson Park in Granite City.

This year's event doubles as a means of raising funds needed to help support hundreds of women caught in crisis pregnancies and also as a public demonstration that Metro East churches of all denominations are actively involved with helping those in need.

With many colorful banners, representatives of more than 40 area churches attended last year's event. Authorities estimated that parade at nearly 450 marchers. Organizers of this year's march hope for 800 participants.

The all-day celebration begins at 9 a.m. and will be headquartered at Shelter 5 near 24th Street in Wilson Park.

Live entertainment will be performed on-stage throughout the day.

Refreshments, gifts and prizes donated by local businesses will be offered along with a grand prize to the marcher receiving the greatest amount of donations.

Marchers may complete their single lap around the park at any time during the day.

A corporate march, complete with flags, banners and balloons, will commence at noon. WIBI Radio of Carlinville will provide music for the march via speaker-equipped trucks.

The MCPCC is a non-profit, community service dedicated to helping women in crisis pregnancies by assisting them in every possible fashion.

Kathy Sparks, co-founder and executive director of the organization, is a former abortion clinic assistant; through her experiences, she now believes abortion is "not the answer."

"To only 'curse' the darkness," by declaring that abortion may be wrong, falls short of our responsibility toward women," Sparks said.

"Therefore, we intend to 'light a candle' in that darkness by being committed to providing each and every troubled woman a viable and constructive alternative at absolutely no cost to her."

"We have helped 1,800 such women so far and currently have 200 clients."

Low-interest loan program expanded

Income levels are no longer a factor for some families interested in low-interest home mortgages offered through Illinois Treasurer Pat Quinn's HomeStart program.

Quinn announced recently that the program will now offer its affordable mortgages to families and individuals in certain cities throughout Illinois regardless of income level.

Previously, the HomeStart program was available only to families earning 115 percent of median income or less. HomeStart is a partnership between the Treasurer's office, Fannie Mae (the Federal National Mortgage Association) and local lenders throughout Illinois. They offer home mortgages with low down payment and closing costs.

The income limitations have been removed in 23 central cities throughout the state. HomeStart borrowers outside central cities are eligible if they earn up to 115 percent of median income.

"Even with today's low interest rates, too many working men and women are finding it impossible to buy a home because of typical down payments of 10 and 20 percent," Quinn said.

"We need to be creative and flexible if we are to help these families realize the American dream of home ownership."

The HomeStart program permits as little as 5 percent down payment and reduces the amount of cash needed at closing. Further, HomeStart enable homebuyers to devote a larger percentage of their income to housing costs.

Since May 1992, HomeStart has helped more than 3,600 Illinois families buy or refinance their homes.

This mortgage program is available through lenders at more than 450 locations throughout the state.

For more information, including a list of participating lenders, contact the Treasurer's office at 1-800-535-1164.

Non-filers offered tax return assistance

The American Bar Association (ABA) and the Internal Revenue Service are jointly sponsoring a "free assistance day" to encourage individuals in Missouri, Illinois and Kansas who have not filed their federal income tax returns to do so.

Members of the ABA will join IRS employees on Saturday, Sept. 18, to offer free tax help and advice to non-filers at 11 locations in Missouri, Illinois and Kansas.

People stop filing or don't file for several reasons, according to Ralph Shilling, IRS district director for Missouri. "Maybe they were missing a W-2 or an interest statement; maybe they owed money and couldn't pay; maybe they skipped one year and now are afraid to contact us," Shilling said.

Sylvan Siegler of the ABA noted that the major reason his organization is participating in the program is to help people overcome that fear.

"On Sept. 18 we will be giving people an opportunity to talk to a lawyer for advice prior to getting help with their tax returns," Siegler said.

"We want people to know that this is the best time to get right with their government."

The ABA will have lawyers available for brief consultations at no cost and on a privileged and confidential basis. The attorneys will be available to address concerns about making a voluntary disclosure of past non-filing of income tax returns.

IRS employees will be at each location to help people prepare returns. Non-filers should bring as much of their tax information as possible with them to the assistance sites. In addition to getting help with preparing tax returns, many of those who owe money will be able to get a payment agreement on the spot.

"Anyone who has a total tax bill less than $10,000 and can pay it off in three years will get an automatic payment agreement that day," Shilling said.

People should call the IRS at 314-342-1040 or 1-800-429-1040 for more information. TDD assistance for the hearing impaired is available at 1-800-429-4059.

Festival, classes at Mounds

A Native American festival, a flintknapping class, a nature/culture hike and the fall equinox sunrise observance are activities scheduled during September at Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site.

The fall equinox sunrise will be observed at the reconstructed Woodhenge, one-half mile east of Mounds Mound, at 6:30 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 19. Although the actual equinox date is a couple of days later, Sunday observers will hear about the discovery, excavation and function of Woodhenge and see how the sun aligns with the site's wooden posts.

A free all-day trip through several archeological and ecological zones of Cahokia Mounds will be featured on the Nature/Culture Hike Sunday, Sept. 19, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. An archeologist and a naturalist will lead participants along the 5-mile trail, stopping often to explain the prehistoric features, archeological research and the Native American uses of the many animals and plants that are encountered. Hikers should meet at the Interpretive Center, bring a bag lunch and beverage, and dress for the weather. The hike will be canceled in case of rain.

Heritage America, a Native American festival and Cahokia Mounds' largest special event, will be held Friday through Sunday, Sept. 24-26. Heritage America features Indians from across the country performing traditional dance, music, crafts and story telling.

Dances will be performed in the dance circle Friday at 6:30 p.m.; Saturday from 1-5 p.m. and again at 6:30 p.m.; and Sunday from 1-5 p.m. Visitors are invited to bring lawn chairs and enjoy the performances.

Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. the central plaza will be filled with nearly 40 demonstrations and activities representing cultures from the Northeast, Southeast, Plains and Southwest, including prehistoric and contemporary crafts, cooking and games.

A special grand opening ceremony at the dance circle will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 25, honoring the 45th Thunderbird Army Division of Fort Sill, Okla. At 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday in the Interpretive Center, Comanche code talkers will demonstrate how they used Native American language to pass Allied secret information during World War II. Heritage America is free and open to the public.

Cahokia Mounds State Historic Site, administered by the Illinois Historic Preservation Agency is near Collinsville, off Interstates 55/70 and 255, and Illinois 111, on Collinsville Road. It is open daily for free public tours, although a donation of $2 for adults and $1 for children is suggested to keep Cahokia Mounds and other Illinois historic sites open to the public. For more information, call 346-5160.

Walk benefits cancer research

In an event designed to bring a greater awareness of breast cancer, the AMC Cancer Research Center, the Suburban Journals, Hardee's restaurants, KSDK-TV (Channel 5) and radio station KYY-FM (98.1) are sponsoring "St. Louis Walks for Women" at four parks on Oct. 3.

Participants who register for the walk will recruit "sponsors" who will make donations to the AMC Cancer Research Center based on the number of miles walked.

There will be a one-mile and five-mile route in each of four local parks — Shaw Park in Clayton, Sylvan Springs Park in south St. Louis county, Longacre Park in Fairview Heights, Ill., and Blanche Park in St.

Charles. Registration and pre-walk activities begin at 10:30 a.m., and there will be a celebrity kickoff and a warm-up session at noon by Steps Unlimited. The walk begins at 12:30 p.m.

Prizes for walkers who collect the most pledges include four round-trip tickets to any Southwest Airlines destination, a deluxe weekend for two at the Adam's Mark Hotel, passes to AMC Theaters and four 1994 Six Flags season passes.

To register or for more information about the walk, call 569-0500, or fill out the registration form in this issue of the Journal. The registration form is also available in all Hardee's restaurants.

Edgar pledges state-local cooperation

Gov. Jim Edgar said directors of eight key state agencies will travel throughout Illinois this month, meeting with local officials to further cooperation and understanding between state and local governments.

"Partnership between state and local government is essential to the well-being of Illinois citizens," the governor said. "Local officials are the closest to the people and the challenges facing their communities."

"During September, I have asked the directors of eight agencies whose programs directly affect local governments to hold Opportunities Conference in 14 communities around the state. These regional conferences will serve two purposes: to help local officials learn more about the state's programs and services and to help state officials understand more about the needs of our communities."

The Collinsville Holiday Inn will be the site of the conference on today.

Agencies participating in the conference include the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA), the Department of Conservation, the Department of Central Management (CMS), the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, the Illinois Liquor Control Commission, the Illinois Development Finance Authority, the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals, and the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT).

Four in running for SIUE post

Presidential candidates to visit campus

Presidential nominees to visit each of four remaining candidates for the presidency of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will visit the campus and areas in coming weeks.

None of the four who remain in the running is from SIUE. A presidential search committee evaluated more than 100 candidates and nominees for the post before paring its list to four.

"It was a very strong field," said John Meisel, committee chairman. "It included a number of provosts, presidents and chancellors, the type of people who typically become presidents."

Many are well-qualified for such a position, but the committee tried to focus on "the best fit for SIUE," Meisel said. The new president will succeed SIUE President Earl Lazerson, who plans to retire Dec. 31 after 14 years in the office.

In the running are: Richard A. Crofts, vice president for academic affairs, Mankato State University, Mankato, Minn., who will visit SIUE Monday and Tuesday;

G. Warren Smith II, president of Southeastern Louisiana University, Hammond, La., to visit Sept. 20 and 21;

Nancy Belick, provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs, Louisiana State University, Shreveport, La., to visit Sept. 27 and 28;

Richard S. Meyers, president of Western Oregon State College, Monmouth, Ore., to visit Oct. 4 and 5.

Meisel declined to say how many, if any, of the original applicants were from SIUE. He said candidates no longer being considered had been promised confidentiality.

The campus visits will include meetings with faculty, staff, students and community members. Evaluations and information from those meetings will be considered by the search committee in selecting a list of finalists for submission to SIU Chancellor James Brown in mid-October.

Meisel said committee members also will visit the candidates' campuses.

On behalf of my wife Laura, my daughter Ashley and the entire Evanson family I would like to wish the Granite City School District a very special "Happy Birthday." This year commemorates the 100th year of pride and progress for our District.

A special "thanks" is due to all the citizens of our District who for 100 years have generously supported our schools through their tax dollars, unlimited hours of volunteer time and a strong community involvement in school activities. While other Districts are at an educational standstill our citizens continue to make a commitment to education.

Laura and I were both educated in this District and now look forward to Ashley gaining her education in the Granite City Public Schools. We believe in the future of Granite City and have chosen to make it our home. The people of this District have been very good to us and we believe in giving back to this community by actively participating in community affairs. We are grateful to all the people who for 100 years have provided educational opportunities to the children of School District #9.

To the teachers, cooks, custodians, secretaries, support staff, administrators and past and present Board members who have been a part of this fine School District, a very happy 100th birthday and best wishes for continued success.

My Kindest Regards

Illinois Power finances local school projects

A group of second graders at Frohardt Elementary School will work on organic pesticides, eighth graders at Grigsby Junior High will receive Civil War reference materials and some juniors and seniors at Madison High School will get business writing materials as a result of Illinois Power's classroom grant program.

These are just three of the 33 Metro East classroom projects for the upcoming school year funded by $100 grants from IP. The utility received about 300 applications for the grants. The utility in May invited teachers in IP's Metro Division to apply for grants up to $100 for equipment, supplies or science kits for special projects. The utility's Metro Division consists of 75 communities in St. Clair, Madison, Monroe and Clinton counties.

A focus group consisting of teachers and administrators designed the program. "We asked teachers how we could take an active role in education in our communities," said Jill Dunner, IP's Maryville district manager and coordinator of the classroom grant program.

"They came up with the classroom grant program and the response from teachers has been very favorable."

Barbara Emiling's sixth grade class at Carlyle Grade School will construct a hydroponics unit to grow plants indoors without soil. A hydroponics unit uses water and mineral solution.

"This project will take students beyond the normal method of food production and introduce them to future possibilities," Emiling said.

Other local winners include: CAHOKIA: Carol Schwartz's kindergartners at St. Catherine Labourer School will receive the "Travels with Teddy" report.

CASEYVILLE: Maria Strang's fifth graders at Caseyville Elementary School will receive nature's library.

COLUMBIA: Gena Ronshausen's first graders at Parkview School will receive sea life materials. Marge Krizan's seventh and eighth graders at Immaculate Conception will receive geography textbooks board games.

EAST ST. LOUIS: Judith Frenando's second graders at Woodrow Wilson School will receive weights and measure equipment. Leeanne Hill's eighth and ninth graders at Clark Junior High School will receive first-aid lifesaving equipment. Sharon Joiner's 11th and 12th graders at East St. Louis High School will work on honors English research projects. Lisette Mager's special education class at Cannady Elementary will receive basic supplies.

EDWARDSVILLE: Stacy Granger's kindergartners through third graders at LeClaire School will work on writing and photography. Laura Holloway's kindergartners at LeClaire School will receive safe cooking utensils. Pam Stanko's sixth graders at Glen Carbon School will work on a sun dial project. Carol Peterson's second graders at LeClaire School will receive gifts for their senior citizen pen pals. James Evans's seventh graders at Edwardsville Junior High School will receive blank books for writing projects. Susan Henderson's eighth graders at Edwardsville Junior High School will receive robotics equipment.

GRANITE CITY: Sharon Proender's second graders at Frohardt Elementary will work on organic pesticides. Carol Hilderbrand's eighth graders at Grigsby Junior High School will receive Civil War reference materials. Linda Badger's third graders at Prather Elementary School will receive a measurement learning center.

Sue Grable's third and fourth graders at Niedringhaus School will receive math software. Lori Silva's kindergartners through eighth graders at St. Elizabeth's School will receive software. MADISON: Raelynn Parks' 11th and 12th graders at Madison High School will receive business writing materials.

Fair, Wheat Festival this weekend

The annual Fair and Wheat Festival will be held in Okawville this weekend. This year the three-day event will be held on Sept. 17-19 at the Community Club Park on Front Street.

On Friday evening, Sept. 17, the Okawville Fair Queen judging pageant will be held at the high school. Following the pageant, there will be a free dance at the park where food and beverages will also be available. Saturday has a host of activities for the children: a children's tractor pull, a greased pig catching contest and a children's farm where children can learn about the feeding and caring for various animals. Discounted rides are available.

Both on Saturday and Sunday there are various bands and dancing groups performing furnishing almost continuous entertainment. Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. is the parade with this year's theme, "175 Years of Pride," in celebration of Washington County's 175th anniversary.

The parade will include local school bands, marching bands, clowns, horse and Shriners. There will be a variety of food and beverages available all day Saturday and Sunday.

The exhibits will be open showing the entrants and prize winners in the various cooking, crafts and school project categories.

Companionship

Conversation helps make meal time special for patients

Meal time is the favorite hour of the day for many people. What makes this hour so appealing? For many, it is the conversation shared with associates.

Unfortunately, hospital patients often miss this daily enjoyment. As a result, many patients, especially the elderly, become lonely and lose their appetite.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center is taking steps to prevent this situation. Karen Gau, activity coordinator of the Extend Care Rehabilitation Unit, and Joyce Epperson, director of Volunteer Services, initiated a program that allows patients to spend their meal times in the company of others.

In the "Silver Spoons" program, associates and volunteers spend their lunch or dinner time with patients. During this time, volunteers talk to patients, help feed them and encourage them to finish their meals.

"Many patients just need this company to inspire them to eat," Gau said. "I believe patients take more interest in eating if a companion stays with them."

The program may also shorten their recovery time. "Patients do not always realize how much eating helps them heal and also feel better sooner," Gau said.

Currently, one SEMC volunteer is working with the program. Twice a week, Alice Ballhorn assists ECRU patients during lunch.

"Patients are really receptive to my help and like the company," she said.

Epperson said she feels the program will also benefit the nursing staff.

"Nurses spend a lot of time delivering trays to patients and assisting them if needed," she said. "The volunteers' help will allow nurses more time for other duties."

Gau and Epperson said their goal is to have 10 active volunteers in the program, but eventually expand beyond this number to a one-on-one basis in patient rooms.

"Now all we need are more associates and volunteers to sign up for the program," Epperson said. "If you would like to volunteer, call the Volunteer Department at 798-3168."

Planned-giving program is under way

The development board at St. Elizabeth Medical Center has begun a program of education and support for individuals who wish to make a significant charitable gift endowing the future of health care in this area.

The Planned Giving Program focuses on the importance of a will, the benefits of special charitable trusts, and unique giving opportunities available through life insurance, according to Carl Ranft, committee chairman.

"Although individuals have made bequests to the medical center like this before, this is the first time we have organized a formal program to inform the public about the benefits of planned giving," Ranft said.

John Mohl, SEMC's director of development, said planned giving practices can assure a major gift for charity, and at the same time create tax savings which may provide the donor more income and a larger estate after the gift than before. "This is especially possible when gifts of appreciated assets like real estate or securities are involved," he said.

Ranft is joined in this effort by Leo Konzen of Lueders, Robertson & Konzen; Barry Loman of Central Bank; and Mel Wittmeyer, retired president and chief executive officer of Magna Bank of Madison County.

Coal research funding OK'd

Another $35 million in state bonds for coal research projects has been approved by Gov. Jim Edgar.

Edgar signed legislation Wednesday, Sept. 1, to revive a state program that provided grants to projects demonstrating clean coal technology.

The project that received the most state funds in the past, more than $18 million, was the KInGGas coal-gasification demonstration plant in East Alton, developed by Allis-Chalmers Corp.

The plant was later demolished and Allis-Chalmers was never able to market the process that turned high-sulfur Illinois coal into natural gas.

However, Edgar said his administration has a "continuing commitment to expand markets for Illinois coal, the state's most abundant natural resource."

"Through this program, the Department of Energy and Natural Resources will be able to fund additional clean coal technology projects, expand coal markets and work to further the economically competitive use of Illinois coal," Edgar said.

"These additional funds will leverage other private and federal funds, helping to guarantee that Illinois coal and agricultural products remain a competitive fuel source in the future," he added.

County may act on DUI penalties

Madison County Board members, meeting today, could strengthen existing penalties against county employees who in the future might drive county-owned cars while under the influence of alcohol.

The resolution, proposed by county board member Anthony Bosch of Wood River, calls for an automatic 30-day suspension of any employee refusing to take police sobriety tests while driving county vehicles.

Employees could also receive suspensions of more than 30 days or be fired at the discretion of county board chairman.

The issue was raised in June after Lanny H. Darr, the county's Emergency Management Agency director, was charged with a traffic violation while driving under the influence after his county-owned car struck another car. Darr, who refused sobriety and breath tests, was suspended.

Partney "beating my head against the wall for more than two years" since both the IEPA and the bankruptcy trustee deny owning the site on West 22nd Street and therefore refuse to take responsibility for its condition.

Steve Davis, IEPA project manager for the Jenson-Wright site, emphatically said Monday that the IEPA, which collected a $848,000 settlement as a result of the bankruptcy, "has never taken possession of that site nor do we have any intention of taking possession."

Davis said the ownership of — and responsibility for — the site belong to bankruptcy trustee Charles Triacchi, an attorney in Cleveland, Ohio, appointed by the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Northern District of Ohio Eastern Division.

But Joan Gunkler from Triacchi's firm said, "No way. The Granite City site was never deeded to the bankruptcy trustee and is not listed as part of the assets in the court record."

Told that, Davis also said, "No way."

Davis said he had worked closely with the Jenson-Wright attorneys during the bankruptcy and "you will not find any document where we ever took possession of the property." "We are not in the real estate business and have no intention of being in the real estate business," he said.

Both Gunkler and Davis said their position could be proved by checking the case file in court. "Well I'm going to ask City Attorney Leo Konzen to do just that," Davis said.

"Somebody has to be responsible."

working employees who have received notice," Levy said. "The assessor and the aldermen" should all have the same goal to run a cost-effective assessor's office.

"We want to come to an accurate assessment of the situation and resolve the differences without alienating anybody," he said.

While Levy said that he hesitated to take the newspaper's charge, he explained that a much more meaningful measure of the charges provided to employees to compare assessor costs per million dollars of assessed valuation actually handled by the office. She was a telephone operator for Norfolk & Western Railroad for 29 years and a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Madison. Survivors include her husband, William Eckells; a sister, Katherine Sawicki of Granite City; and two brothers, William Gavilsky of Omaha, Neb., and Anthony Gavilsky of Jefferson City, Mo.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Frances Catherine Gavilsky, and two sisters, Frances Troits and Ann Dalezak.

Services were held Tuesday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Madison. Burial was at Mount Carmel Cemetery, Belleville. Arrangements were by Lahey-Sedlack Funeral Home, Madison.

Ralph York

Ralph York, 68, formerly of Granite City, died at 4:02 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 14, 1993, at St. John's Hospital, Springfield, Ill. He was retired from Granite City Steel.

Survivors include his wife, Helen York, and one son, Gary York of Granite City. Arrangements are pending at Irwin Chapel, 3909 Maryville Road, Granite City, 931-8000.

Andrew Angeloff

Andrew "Decho" Angeloff, 55, of Granite City died at 9:47 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 12, 1993, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after a nine-month illness. He was born Dec. 2, 1937, in Granite City, where he had been a lifelong resident.

A Postal Service worker for many years, he was currently working for the Agency for Community Transit. He was a member of First Presbyterian Church, Granite City, a member of AMVETS Post 204, where he was a past commander, the Croatian Home in Madison and Disabled American Veterans. He was an Army veteran.

Survivors include his wife, Roslyn (Hankup) Angeloff of Granite City; one brother, Phillip Angeloff of Mountain View, Calif.; and his mother, Alexandria (Kales) Angeloff of Granite City. He was preceded in death by his father, Nicolas Angeloff.

Services are set for 11 a.m. today at Thomas Memorial Mortuary, 2205 Pontoon Road, Granite City, with the Rev. Dr. Lewis Trotter officiating. The remains will be cremated.

Memorials are requested for the First Presbyterian Church.

ble for the site. The IEPA got 948 grand and now says it will just be enough to run some more studies. The IEPA already ran Wright out of business. It's about time something got cleaned up," Davis said. He sympathizes with Partney, but that the IEPA is "very restricted on how it spends the money."

"We don't have a lot of flexibility," Davis said. "The cleanup fund is not intended to beautify a site, just to clean up the hazardous material."

Davis said the IEPA has used the money to remove some hazardous waste from the site and to remove some asbestos left after the partial demolition.

More of the money is currently being used to perform a legal search for responsible parties, he said.

"This search and assessment is required by law," Davis said. "I understand the concern of the local officials about the condition of the property, but those problems do not fall under the IEPA."

Partney said the city's building and health inspectors are preparing a list of code violations and he plans to take that list and have the city attorney prepare a resolution condemning the property.

"After the City Council passes that resolution, I want to send it to where the federal legislator and anyone else who may be able to help us," he said.

"For more than two years, we've been jerked around, passed from pillar to post, and nothing has been done."

"Well, somebody has to be responsible for that property. We're going to make someone and make them live up to their responsibility."

When the assessed valuation figures are translated into assessor cost per total assessed valuation (and the 46 percent of assessed valuation not done by the Wood River assessor's office is removed), Wood River's cost is $1,200 per million dollars of assessed valuation compared to Granite City's cost of $1,500 per million, Levy said.

He said the approximately $160,000 difference in the gross assessed value of the two townships' budgets of the two townships is attributed to three factors — a $70,000 difference in the insurance package provided to employees; about a $4,000 difference in Granite City and Wood River employees' salaries that he said not only exists in the assessor's offices but is consistent in all of the offices of the two townships and cities; and the fact that Laub has nine full-time employees compared to six full-time and three part-time workers in Wood River.

Levy gave two examples to illustrate the lack of meaning in a cost per parcel figure.

He said that Laub has combined Granite City Steel's parcels to only 28 from about 200 parcels when she took office.

He also said that the number of parcels for Tarporly, West Packing Co., was cut in half last year, to two from four.

"That's the same amount of (assessment) work to be done — the only difference is that the Tarporly now pay its taxes more conveniently," Levy said.

miracles. We just want some answers about what we will be able to do.

"Every resident of the island could tell horror stories every building there has at least 50 percent damaged." Many buildings were covered by water, with only portions of the roofs remaining visible.

But, Burger said, the residents see no use in dwelling on the damage already done.

Now, he said, the residents just want to know what it will take to begin all over again.

"Right now it seems like someone is trying to make it so difficult to rebuild that it is impossible to go back," he said.

"But no one has come up with an offer to buy us out, either. We want to know what to do and, so far, no one seems to want to tell us."

The island is situated between the river and the eight-mile-long Chain of Rocks Canal, which serves as the river's navigable channel.

A flood of record proportions has kept the Mississippi above flood stage here for more than 11 weeks this summer.

An estimated 47 families were evacuated from Chouteau Island in July.

THE Thomas TRADITION

Crime prevention to be discussed

The Share and Care Group at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, will meet Thursday, Sept. 16, 7:30-9:30 p.m. in the Dr. Tom Dooley Center.

The topic for the evening, "Citizens Against Crime: Saving Lives Through Education."

This program is being highly acclaimed across the country. Find the answers to many questions about self-protection. Recommended safety items available for purchase.

Share and Care is a program for men and women of all faiths. The meetings are open to all and provide a Christian atmosphere of support and acceptance, especially for those persons who need help with their adjustment of life after divorce, separation and other losses in their lives.

Kathy Sparks to address luncheon Friday

Kathy Sparks of Granite City will speak at a noon luncheon Sept. 17 in the Ambassador Ballroom of the Renaissance Hilton Hotel, Lindbergh Blvd. and Highway 40, St. Louis County.

The title of her talk is "Out of Darkness." Master of ceremonies for the luncheon is Michael McHardy, general manager of KSTV Radio.

Sparks said that as a result of her former work as a medical assistant at an abortion clinic she experienced depression.

After soul-searching, she was transformed from an advocate for abortion to her current position as the executive director of the Metro East Crisis Pregnancy Center in Granite City. She is the mother of four and has been counseling young women.

Renovation begins at hospital

Anderson Hospital in Maryville is currently renovating the health-care facility's lobby and main entrance. The renovation work began Aug. 31 and is scheduled to be completed by Oct. 15.

During this period, all patients and visitors — except those receiving the services of the emergency or the Pavilion for Women — should enter the hospital through the lobby of the new physicians office building. The lobby of the physicians office building is accessible from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily. After 8 p.m., patients are asked to use the emergency department entrance. Expectant mothers may use the Pavilion for Women entrance 24 hours a day.

Anyone with questions regarding this matter should contact Anderson Hospital's community relations office at 288-5711, extension 439.

en for the last nine years.

Both she and her husband, Michael, are involved in this ministry. Along with her other ministry responsibilities, she travels extensively, sharing her testimony at banquets, workshops and symposiums.

She has made several films, including "The Testimony of Kathy Sparks," which was produced and distributed nationwide by Mission City Television of San Antonio, Texas.

For further information on the luncheon meeting, persons may call the Rev. Joseph Naumann, secretary, Clergy for Life, at (314) 531-3666 or John Henry, public relations, at (314) 353-0155.

Youth group goes to camp

The senior high youth group of St. John United Church of Christ in Granite City traveled to Kansas City, Kan., for a work camp experience from July 25 through July 30.

Participants included: Sheila Reiter, Jake Morris, Jesse Morris, Deb E. Miner, Matt Giles, Mark Giles, Chris Boyer, Bill Starkey, Sharon O'Toole, Jim Watson and Rev. Robert Miner, all of whom are advisers for the group.

The purpose of the experience was to help others get an understanding of the needs of the poor in an urban setting and to build bridges of understanding across lines of geography, economy and race.

The group helped with evacuation as a Missouri River crest and threatened to flood a section of downtown Kansas City, and they also helped with sandbagging efforts. Finally they helped in a rehab program of a residence.

The work camp is part of the program of Cross-Lines, Inc., of Kansas City, Cross-Lines, Inc., has programs in the areas of food pantry, clothing help, assistance with jobs, education, government programs, urban rehabilitation, and many other services.

The work camp experience is part of the senior high program at St. John United Church of Christ.

The group arrived back in Granite City on July 31.

Lubak awarded Sodality Scholarship

Steven Lubak of Granite City has been awarded the 1993 St. Elizabeth Ladies' Sodality Scholarship.

He will attend Washington University in St. Louis to pursue a degree in the field of engineering.

The son of Thomas and Judith Lubak, Steven graduated near the top of his class at Granite City High School. Academically, Steven is an Illinois State Scholar and has competed on the math team, the JETS team and the Scholar Bowl team.

A member of the science club, the foreign policy club and the National Honor Society, Steven is also listed in "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Steven was actively involved in Illinois' first outdoor classroom facility, a joint venture of Granite City Community School District 9, the Illinois Department of Conservation and Illinois Power.

Kathy Mangi, president of the sodality, presented the $300 scholarship to Steven recently at Mass.

Great tips on Perennial Gardening from the experts at

FRANK'S NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

Perennial gardens are the perfect way to create color, interest and character in your landscape. The great thing about perennials is that, because they are more or less permanent plants, you don't have to replace them every year like you do annuals. However (doesn't it seem like there's always a "however"?), you do have to take a little extra care when planning a perennial garden.

Unlike annuals that bloom all summer, most perennials only bloom for a few weeks, but what a grand few weeks it is! Some of them, though, will bloom a bit longer. Still others may produce a second, but less intense bloom if the plants are cut back after the first display fades.

Some perennials are grown strictly for their foliage, and these provide interest when flowering is at a minimum. The possible combinations of colors might seem endless, but it really isn't. Of course, since it's your garden, the color scheme is up to you. Select the colors that you like best.

It helps to do a little planning first. You should consider the final height of what you're about to plant. You probably wouldn't want to put a 2-ft. plant in front of one that's only going to grow a few inches.

Just like all of us, perennials all have different tastes. Ours may include food, movies, music and cars, but their preferences relate to light, soil and moisture. Try to choose plants with similar requirements. If you have plants with very different requirements, try to group together those with similar needs.

Spread a 2-4" layer of peat moss, compost or manure over the soil. Then apply a flowering plant fertilizer such as Frank's Flower & Garden Food. Work these into the soil, tilling to a depth of at least 8 inches. You can sow seeds, put in transplants, or even divide existing perennials. Buy seeds if you want some perennials that aren't commonly sold as transplants. Sow the seeds according to the package directions. They'll sprout next spring and will slowly fill space in the garden. Transplants are usually the most popular perennials, and will immediately fill space in a new garden.

Divisions (young plants or plant parts separated from the parent plant) also fill space quickly. You can take divisions from your own plants or exchange them with a friend or neighbor. A tip from one of our readers (see below) involves plant swapping. When you divide perennials, you're separating the plant crown or grouping of bulbs into segments.

Here are some additional tips that were sent to us earlier by Florissant's Cathie Lundy. She participates in a neighborhood "plant swap." When the group thins out their perennials, they take what's left to cheer up the folks at local nursing homes and senior citizens complexes.

Cathie keeps a Rubbermaid container in the garage for storing tools and supplies. The container's lid keeps the tools out of the elements, but there's a better benefit than that. Her garden surrounds a swimming pool, and she can always keep an eye on the children, since everything she needs is within easy reach.

How could old automobile tires help you enjoy potatoes? Follow the advice sent in by Sarah Hartman of St. Charles, and you'll find out!

Sarah's tip is on how to grow potatoes in small spaces. You'll need four or five old tires and potato eyes.

After preparing the soil, plant the potato eyes and wait until the green growth is about 1 to 3 inches. Then place a tire around the plants. Fill with soil and wait until the green grows out another 1 to 3 inches, and then cover with another tire. Repeat this until the stack is four or five tires high. When everything is ready to harvest, you should have 4 to 5 clean potatoes per tire!

Radio Shack CABLE TV IS CHANGING...

Cable Fees Going Up? Can't Get Local Channels?

The problem:

New TV legislation is changing the face of cable. The bottom line? You could pay more to keep getting the stations you have now, or lose some of the local channels you've been getting for free.

The solution:

Simple as A and B. A—install a Radio Shack TV antenna. B—add a Radio Shack A/B switch, starting at $4.99, and enjoy the best of both—cable TV and local broadcasts. Visit your local Radio Shack and we'll show you a system that will fit your needs... affordably.

TAILGATING

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

Autumn is the perfect time to heed the call of the wild. For some, this is a walk in the woods, looking for evidence of the changing seasons. For others, this is the mad call of timeouts and touchdowns, offsidies and goals.

Whether or not the National Football League drops football into St. Louis, tailgating is a fall tradition that goes with any type of activity, from sports to a trip to a museum, a day searching out award-winning wines or chasing hot air balloons.

Many people consider tailgating a ritual related to college or professional football games only. However, cooler weather makes the event a delicious reward for enjoying model airplanes, a local festival or a baseball championship game.

Tailgate parties filter down to the high school level, too. Several years ago a group of friends started gathering before an early season Kirkwood High School football game — when their children entered middle school. It gave them an opportunity to share congeniality on a school parking lot and later attend an event their children preferred to attend unchaperoned. Last year the Kirkwood High School Parent Network — a PTO committee that offers students drug-free activities and support for parents who endorse such activities — became official sponsor of the event. With no fees, lots of good food and ready participation, it continues to offer an opportunity for sharing food with friends in the open air — always a winning event.

Warning: this friendly spirit is hearty food meant to be eaten with fingers or plastic utensils. Convenience in preparation and serving is the specialty of the day. Here are a few simple-to-make and easy-to-eat foods that make tailgating memorable.

CHERRY CUPCAKES

- 1 box (2 layers) chocolate cake mix
- 3 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1/2 cup oil
- 1 can (21 oz.) cherry pie filling
- 1 can (16 oz.) vanilla frosting

Preheat oven to 350°. Line muffin cups with paper liners. Prepare cake mix according to package directions, adding eggs, water and oil. Pour batter into lined muffin cups, filling two-thirds full. Remove 24 cherries from cherry filling. Spoon generous teaspoon of remaining cherry filling onto center of each cupcake. Bake in preheated oven 20 to 25 minutes.

Cool in pans on wire rack 10 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool completely. Frost each cupcake with vanilla frosting. Garnish each cupcake with reserved cherries.

Makes 24 cupcakes.

BEEFY TURNOVERS

- 1/2 lb. ground beef
- 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
- 1/4 cup finely chopped green bell pepper
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- 1/2 cup steak sauce
- 2 cups (8 oz.) shredded mozzarella cheese
- 2 rolls (11 oz. each) refrigerated pizza crust dough

Preheat oven to 400°. Lightly grease baking sheets. In skillet over medium-high heat, cook ground beef, onion, pepper and garlic until meat is no longer pink, stirring to break up meat. Pour off fat. Add tomato sauce and steak sauce. Heat to boil. Reduce heat to low. Cook 5 minutes or until slightly thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in cheese. Cool at least 15 minutes.

Unroll pizza dough from one package. Divide in 4 equal pieces. Roll each piece in 8-inch square. Spoon scant 1/2 cup beef mixture on center of each square. Fold over dough to form triangle. Press together edges, sealing well with tines of fork. Place on prepared baking sheet. Repeat with remaining dough and filling to make total of 8 turnovers. Bake in preheated oven 20 minutes or until browned. Serve hot or at room temperature.

Makes 8 turnovers.

HEARTY SAUSAGE CASSOULET

- 1 lb. sweet Italian sausage, sliced 1/4 inch thick
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 2 tbsp. flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1/2 cup steak sauce
- 1 cup dried tart cherries
- 1/4 tsp. sage
- 2 cans (16 oz. each) white kidney beans, drained, rinsed

Preheat oven to 350°.

In large skillet over medium-high heat, brown sausage. Add onion. Cook until tender. Stir in flour until smooth. Gradually stir in milk and steak sauce. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and begins to boil. Stir in cherries and sage.

In 2-quart baking dish, alternately layer beans and sausage mixture. Bake, uncovered, in preheated oven 30 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Makes 8 servings.

CHERRY BANANA BREAD

- 1 jar (10 oz.) maraschino cherries
- 1 1/4 cups flour
- 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. baking soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup mashed ripe banana
- 1/4 cup chopped walnuts

Preheat oven to 350°. Lightly grease 8-by-5-inch loaf pan. Drain maraschino cherries, reserving 2 tablespoons juice. Cut cherries in quarters.

Combine flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Using electric mixer at medium speed, blend butter, brown sugar, eggs and reserved juice until thoroughly combined. Alternately add flour mixture and mashed banana, beginning and ending with flour mixture. Stir in cherries and walnuts.

Spread batter evenly in prepared pan. Bake in preheated oven 1 hour or until golden brown and wooden pick inserted near center comes out clean. Remove from pan. Cool on wire rack.

Store in tightly covered container or wrapped in foil. Makes 16 servings.

Pack it to Go

Food for a tailgate party should be packed by the same rules that any outdoor eating must follow. Here are some tips to keep in mind:

- The "tailgate" might come from an Aerostar or a Shadow, but chilled foods must stay cold and hot foods must stay hot.

- Move the food in a convenient form, such as cardboard boxes. — File storage boxes are a good size — or large pans that hold smaller pans surrounded by ice if there is no insulated chest available. Inexpensive Styrofoam boxes are available at the supermarket year-round.

- Hot food drops in temperature, so they should be very hot when packed. Cooking it in a glass casserole that holds heat lets it go straight from the oven to the event. Wrap it in a couple layers of heavy-duty aluminum foil, then in several thicknesses of newspaper.

- Pack cold food in frozen form as much as possible. Juices and beverages are easy to freeze and pack along, so they are useful once they arrive and are needed to drink.

- Use lots of ice. Place perishables, such as food with dairy or meat products, directly on ice for optimum cooling. Packing other cool foods on top helps insulate them.

- Pack squishable foods — such as strawberries, grapes and cookies — in separate containers. Cut up foods like watermelon in handy pieces before leaving home.

- Don't forget the plates, forks, a few knives, spoons, napkins or paper towels and cups if necessary.

- Follow the two-hour rule. Perishable food at room temperature for two hours has hit the maximum for food safety. Do not leave out food, pack it away, then snack on it again later after the game unless the two-hour limit has not elapsed and the food has been kept at its proper temperature in the meantime.

Winning turkey recipes give teens cause to jump for joy

Thirteen-year-old Shiloh Graham, of Acton, Calif., was at a fund-raising yard sale for her youth group when she heard she had won the 1993 Turkey Lovers' Recipe Contest for teens sponsored by the National Turkey Federation.

Her excitement concerned the $2,000 prize for Quick Turkey Appetizers which was chosen from 1,700 recipes. It was chosen for its combination of taste, appearance, appeal, originality and simplicity. Because this recipe uses smoked turkey, convenient from the deli, it is an ideal recipe to use for a quick snack or appetizer.

Another top winner, Turkey Lovers' Greek Pizza, came from Paul Lorange of Warren, Pa.

The 10 prize-winning recipes have been featured in the turkey federation's newest brochure, "Teen Cuisine News."

To obtain a free copy, send a self-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope to: Teen Cuisine News, National Turkey Federation, 1321 Sunset Hills Road, Reston, Va. 22090.

Quick turkey appetizers

- 6 large (10 inch) flour tortillas
- 4 tsp. olive oil
- 1 cup salsa
- 1 lb. sliced deli smoked turkey, cut in 1/4 inch strips

- 1 medium tomato, chopped
- 2 tsp. chopped fresh cilantro
- 1/2 tsp. chopped black olives
- 1/2 tsp. crushed red pepper
- 1 cup (4 oz.) grated Monterey Jack cheese

Preheat oven to 400°. Place tortillas on two baking sheets. Lightly brush both sides of tortillas with oil. Bake in preheated oven 3 minutes.

Evenly spread salsa over center of each tortilla to within 1-inch of edge. Sprinkle turkey, tomato, cilantro, olives, red pepper and cheese evenly over salsa on each tortilla. Bake tortillas 10 to 12 minutes until cheese melts.

To serve, slice each tortilla in 8 pieces.

Makes 48 appetizers.

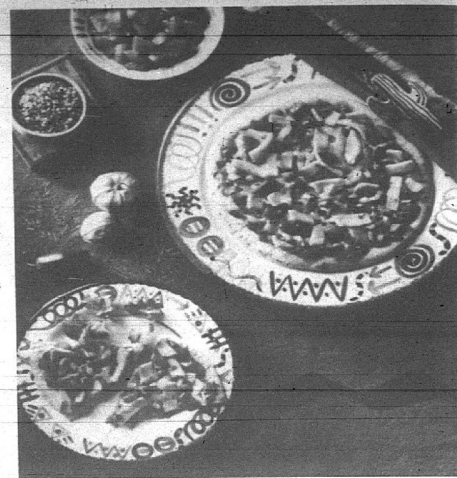

Turkey lovers' Greek pizza

- 1 tube (10 oz.) refrigerated pizza dough
- 2 tbsp. olive oil
- 2 tsp. garlic powder
- 1 tsp. leaf oregano
- 1 tsp. crushed rosemary
- 1 lb. ground turkey
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 oz. crumbled feta cheese
- 1/4 cups (5 oz.) grated Monterey Jack cheese with jalapeno peppers
- 1/2 cup black olives, sliced
- 2 tsp. chopped fresh chives

Preheat oven to 400°.

In 12-inch pizza pan, press dough to fit. Brush with oil. Sprinkle with garlic powder, turmeric and rosemary. Bake dough in preheated oven 8 to 10 minutes until lightly browned. Remove crust from oven.

In large nonstick skillet over medium heat, saute turkey and onion 5 to 6 minutes until turkey is no longer pink.

This quick-to-fix appetizer is a winner for anyone looking for a well-flavored finger food.

Evenly spread turkey mixture over pizza crust. Sprinkle feta and Monterey Jack cheeses, olives and chives over top of turkey.

key. Bake in preheated oven 10 to 15 minutes until cheese is melted.

To serve, cut pizza in 8 slices.

Diane Forte, winner of this week's test for Southwestern, she wins a prize of $100 from the Macaroni Contest.

This is a contest not only can be made at least advance to let flavors show off, but the pepper sauce more spices with more may.

Recipe

Triple Chocolate Cake

- 1 pkg. (2 layers) cake mix
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup semisweet chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup milk chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped chocolate
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans

Preheat oven to 350°. Combine cake mix, butter, egg and pecans. Drop by rounded spoonfuls on ungreased bottom of 9x13 inch pan. Bake in preheated oven for 30 minutes. Cool 1 minute. Remove to rack. Makes 31 to 32 servings.

Macaroni salad with Southwest sizzle wins Journal contest

Diane Forté, Florissant, is the winner of this week's recipe contest for Southwest Salad. For it she wins a prize of dinner certificates from Pasta House Company.

This is a convenient dish that not only can be, but should be made at least a couple days in advance to let the spicy, tangy flavors show off best. The recipe is based on one chosen as a favorite by a food editor in Arizona, but the winner increased the pepper sauce and chilies for more spiciness, then offset it with more mayonnaise. If your local market does not carry canned garbanzo beans (chick peas), they can be cooked from dry beans, or colorful red beans can be used.

Recipes in this month's Use-Your-Noodle Recipe Contest will be accepted through Sept. 30 for consideration as winner each week in October. Send in any type of recipe that uses pasta — from appetizer to salad to main dish.

One recipe per household can be sent to: Use-Your-Noodle Recipe Contest, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo.

Winner's Circle

As usual, if there is a history to the recipe, it will be considered part of the entry. It will be used as a basis for selecting winners, along with taste and eye appeal. Originality will be considered, although the recipe need not be original. If possible, name the recipe's source. Include the name of the Journal you receive. Winners are notified by mail.

Contest winners may enter again six months after the prize-winning publication date.

Southwest salad

- 2 cups uncooked macaroni
- 1/4 cup red wine vinegar
- 1/4 cup oil
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1/2 cup chopped green bell pepper
- 5 green onions with tops, sliced
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- Several dashes pepper sauce
- 3 to 4 tbsp. (or 1 small can) chopped mild green chilies
- 1 can (16 oz.) garbanzo beans, drained

- 1 can (16 oz.) whole kernel corn, drained
- 1/2 cup sliced black olives
- 1 cup mayonnaise

Salt and pepper to taste

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Rinse. Drain. In large bowl, pour vinegar over macaroni and let stand while preparing other ingredients.

Combine oil, celery, green pepper, onion, Worcestershire sauce, pepper sauce, chilies and mayonnaise. Add to macaroni with garbanzo, corn and olives. Salt and pepper to taste. Mix well. Refrigerate, covered, 2 to 3 days.

Recipes

Triple chocolate cookies

- 1 pkg. (2 layers) Swiss chocolate cake mix
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup semisweet chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup milk chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup coarsely chopped white chocolate
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans

Preheat oven to 375. Combine cake mix, butter and egg in large bowl. Stir in semisweet, milk and white chocolate and pecans.

Drop by rounded tablespoonful on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in preheated oven 9 to 11 minutes. Cool 1 minute on baking sheet. Remove to racks to cool.

Makes 34 to 4 dozen cookies.

Hang onto cheeses

Cheese paired with fresh apples and pears is a delicious combination. Hard cheese, including cheddar and Swiss, keeps about two months in its original wrapping or tightly wrapped in the refrigerator.

For longer storage, layer, wrap and freeze packaged cheese in freezer paper. Both natural cheeses and processed cheese products can be frozen up to four months. They are prone to crumbling, but can be avoided somewhat by letting them thaw in their wrapper in the refrigerator.

Stir-fry deluxe

- 1 cup quick-cooking rice, uncooked
- 1 tsp. finely shredded orange peel
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2 tbsp. dry white wine
- 1 tsp. cornstarch
- 1/2 tsp. instant chicken bouillon granules
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 tbsp. oil, divided
- 1 to 2 red and/or green bell peppers, cut in 1/4 inch pieces
- 1 lb. boned, skinned chicken breast, cut in thin strips
- 1 medium avocado, peeled, pitted, cut in 1/4 inch chunks
- 1/2 cup sliced almonds

In medium saucepan, cook rice according to package directions. Keep covered.

Stir together orange peel, orange juice, wine, cornstarch and bouillon.

In large skillet over medium-high heat, stir-fry garlic in 1 tablespoon hot oil 30 seconds. Add bell pepper. Stir-fry 1 to 2 minutes until tender-crisp. Remove from skillet.

Heat remaining oil until hot. Stir-fry chicken, half at a time, 2 to 3 minutes until chicken no longer is pink. Return all chicken and vegetables to skillet. Push from center. Stir juice mixture. Pour in center of skillet. Cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Add avocado and almonds. Cook and stir 1 minute longer.

Serve chicken and vegetables over rice.

Makes 4 servings; 586 calories, 34 g protein, 62 g carbohydrate, 23 g fat, 72 mg cholesterol, 187 mg sodium and 4 g fiber each.

Vanilla-time ice cream pie

- 23 chocolate wafer cookies
- 3 tbsp. butter, melted
- 3 pt. vanilla ice cream, softened
- 6 tbsp. (half 6 oz. can) frozen limeade concentrate, thawed
- 2 to 3 drops green food coloring

Trim 1/4 inch from bottom of 11 cookies. Crush trimmings and remaining cookies. Combine crumbs and butter. Press on bottom of 9-inch pie plate. Stand trimmings upright around edge of pie plate. Freeze about 1 hour until crust is firm.

Spread 1 pint ice cream over crust. Combine limeade and food coloring. Drizzle 2 tablespoons mixture over ice cream. Freeze at least 1 hour until firm. Repeat twice.

Freeze completed pie several hours or overnight. If freezing longer than 24 hours, wrap in freezer paper.

Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving. Par-bake in serving dish bottom of pie plate in warm water to loosen crust. Cut immediately to serve.

Makes 8 servings; 305 calories, 4 g protein, 17 g fat and 37 g carbohydrate each.

You Call This Coming a Long Way?

Until now, breast cancer claimed the most lives among women. Now because more are smoking, lung cancer takes more women's lives—approximately 50,000 every year. Progress like this has got to stop.

Call us if you want to quit.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY
1-800-ACS-2345

A recent study showed that people who smoke can expect to live 17 years less than people who don't smoke. Seventeen years. To some people, that's a lifetime.

Christian Women's Fellowship announce events

In the September meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship of Central Christian Church, plans were made for events coming up in the near future. Co-Presidents Lois Bilbrey and Ruth Leik were announced. On Oct. 16 there will be a chicken and dumpling dinner and the sale of craft items. Plans are now under way to have chartered buses to transport the women of the Christian Churches of the St. Louis area to the Quadrennial Assembly at Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind., June 22-26, 1994. The program for the evening was led by Dorothea Rivenburgh and the worship by Joyce Bennington.

Former prep stars much in evidence

Ramblings during mixed seasons... Thanks to television, I expect to get more than one opportunity to see two of this area's greatest high school running backs in action on the collegiate level.

IS THERE ANY question that Billy Greenwald of Highland and Hickey Thompson of Belleville Althoff rank not only with the likes of Chris Moore of East St. Louis but possibly with some of the best ever on the high school level nationally?

Now a senior at Northwestern, Greenwald is listed as a reserve back on the Wildcats' depth chart. But in his four years there he has functioned as a rusher, receiver and special teams player.

Sure, he rushed for 2,267 yards in his senior year (1989) at Highland when he also set state records for single-season touchdowns (45) and 100-yard rushing games (12). But at Northwestern, he is headed toward being a four-year varsity letter winner.

After Northwestern opened the season with a 27-12 loss at Notre Dame, the 6-1, 235-pound organizational studies major can look to a schedule that includes a game Oct. 30 at Illinois. Whether you see him on TV or in person, No. 23 has done well at Northwestern.

AT MICHIGAN STATE, Thompson enters his first varsity season after being a redshirt in '92. He's one of the Spartans' great expectations based on his 132 yards rushing on 21 carries in last spring's scrimmage.

That is nothing new for Thompson, who rushed for national season highs of 3,015 yards in 1990, when he averaged 230 yards rushing per game and scored 41 touchdowns for a 15-1 Althoff team that won the Class 3A state crown.

Listed at 5-11 and 190 pounds, Thompson, a criminal justice major, will wear No. 21. While he has no Illinois game on his schedule, there not only is a Sept. 18 contest at Notre Dame but a Nov. 6 game at home (East Lansing) against Northwestern, when it will be interesting to see how he fares against Greenwald.

OVERTIME: The move of Moore from Culver-Stockton to Illinois State is intriguing, since it marks the third collegiate tie for the former Prep All-American.

Originally signed by Illinois, Moore went to the NAA School (Culver-Stockton) due to Prop 48 woes. After suffering a knee injury, he will sit out a season in Bloomington before being eligible.

The leading rusher on two state championship teams, Moore had 5,181 yards and 81 TDs in high school and will be a real find for ISU—if he can keep his weight down and his mouth shut.

The knee injury has dampened his predictions of grandeur. Still, he's indicating he'll play in next spring's scrimmage.

I'd prefer he prove he can pass 14 hours of classes (that's not much) and prove he can maintain a 2.0 grade point average.

EXTRA INNINGS: Center fielder Craig Suber of Edwardsville's Fox Flags of the Belleville City Softball League appears a shoe-in for Fastpitch Rookie of the Year honors.

Near season's end, the lefthanded hitter was batting .474 with a league high of six triples and a tie for first (with Dave Stewart of South Side) in hits with 27. He also had five home runs, 17 runs batted in and 20 runs scored—all among league-leading categories.

In the Mon-Clark men's baseball league, Bob Spotsanski of two-time league champion Granite City gained St. Clair Division Rookie honors with a .357 average. Right-handed pitcher John Oestreich of Millstadt (5-5, 3.30 ERA and a league-high 64 strikeouts in 72 innings) gained the St. Clair Rookie award.

Neil Flata, the new Belleville Area College baseball coach, hit .500 for Waterloo NA in the Monroe batting honor, while Bob Radosevich of Edwardsville hit .471 for the St. Clair Division. Jim Schlecht of Waterloo paced Monroe pitchers at 7-2, 1.57. Granite City's Brian Harshbarger led St. Clair pitchers at 8-1, 1.63.

Kohler's hat trick leads Warriors past Maroons

Brian Kohler recorded the Granite City soccer team's first hat trick of the season Saturday in the Warriors' 9-0 win over Belleville West.

Kohler, a senior striker, upped his scoring total to seven goals on the season with his effort against the Maroons. He scored Granite City's only goal last Thursday in a 2-1 loss to Collinsville in double overtime.

"Given Belleville West's team, we thought we did a pretty good job," Baker said. "We were pleased."

Granite City upped its Southwestern Conference mark to 2-1 and moved to 5-2 overall. The game against the Maroons gave the Warriors an opportunity to experiment in the field. Senior goalkeeper Dave Kessler saw time as a field player, while junior Mike Bristol started in net and earned the shutout.

OFFENSIVELY, THE Warriors got two goals apiece from Shawn Petroski and Jim Martinec. Travis Mills and Paulie Bucherich accounted for the other two goals.

Bucherich, Granite City's junior midfielder, returned to action after leaving Thursday's game against Collinsville with a

Turning the tables

GCHS gridders cut down on mistakes, defeat Devils

By Tony Panozzo
Staff writer

The Warrior football team minimized its mistakes and forced the opponent into two big ones on its way to its first win of the season Friday at Quincy.

Granite City's 27-6 victory over the Blue Devils came a week after two fumbles cost the Warriors in their opener against Cahokia. Against Quincy, the Warriors had no turnovers, but they recorded two safeties—both by Brian Koberna.

AFTER GIVING UP a big-play touchdown in the opening minutes to Quincy, the Warriors regrouped defensively and the offense responded with three unanswered touchdowns and a field goal. Coach Don Harris said his team's execution on offense was far ahead of where it was against Cahokia.

"I was pleased," Harris said. "We still made some mistakes, but it wasn't bad for our second game. It was just about mistakes-free."

"But it's all in perspective. We've got a good idea of what we need to improve on for the rest of the year."

Granite City fell behind quickly when Quincy's Craig Gay raced 77 yards for a touchdown and a 6-0 lead on the Blue Devils' first possession. But the tempo shifted back to the Warriors later in the quarter when the Blue Devils, backed deep in their own territory, gave up a safety. Koberna, lining up on the outside, pressured the backfield and tackled punter Nathan Tate in the end zone for two points.

After a free kick to Granite City, it took the Warriors just three plays to score. Tailback Ron Fisher's 20-yard touchdown run and Jeff Ridenour's point-after-kick gave Granite City a 9-6 lead.

HARRIS SAID THE planned play by Koberna, normally an interior lineman, paid off for the rest of the game.

"That play really got us going," Harris said. "He kind of set the tone for us. He just barreled in there. We moved him to utilize his quickness, and he just did a super job."

"The safety really picked us up. It turned the game around." Granite City's defense shut down Quincy the rest of the way, and the offense clicked behind the leadership of senior quarterback Donald Harris. Harris completed 7 of 12 passes for 101 yards.

Coolidge gridders preparing for new season, Edwardsville

By Scott Wuerz
Correspondent

Every season is just like starting over again for the coaches of junior high football.

This season is no different for Coolidge Junior High School coach Terry Yates and his team of 50 eighth-grade boys. After losing several early practice sessions because of high temperatures, Yates has struggled to piece together a squad before his team's first game against Edwardsville today.

"IT'S TOUGH TO get ready so quickly," Yates said. "At this level, you see a lot of new faces every year, and 14 practices aren't much time to place players in positions, much less get the offensive game plan down."

Yates has tentatively set his position for the season opener, but he says nothing is written in stone at this point.

Coolidge's offensive line, the key to his team's I-formation running game, is slated to consist of Alex Prokopich, Justin Gardener, Craig Martin and David Kolp. All are alumni of the 7th grade program at Coolidge, and their experience could speed up the jelling process of the offense.

"We have two or three boys who will get some time at quarterback this season, and three more who will see time at the other offensive back positions," Yates said. "At this level, there are a lot of surprises."

"You never know who will stand out and perform at game time, but if we have strong lines the rest of the offensive and defensive game plan will fall into place."

YATES SAID THE Braves will expect contributions from Lester White, Jonas Janek, Robert Davis and Ryan Moneymaker in the offensive backfield. John Burnett will start the first game at quarterback.

Rocky Smith, who had been expected to start, will miss at Granite City (See COOLIDGE, Page 7C)

Hall of Fame to open for home football games

The Granite City Sports Hall of Fame will be open to the public for all Warrior football games this fall, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Admission is free.

"We've added a tremendous amount of sports memorabilia, which is now on exhibit and more is being given to the Hall almost daily," said Les Thompson, chairman of the Hall of Fame committee. "We'll be open at halftime and after the game as well."

Among the items attracting the attention of viewers is the athletic garb lining the walls. On display are All-American Andy Phillip's University of Illinois warriormen, the outer wear worn by Missouri All-American lineman John Tarpoff and the Los Angeles Rams jersey of All-Pro defensive end Kevin Greene.

Baseball uniforms of Salty Parker (San Francisco Giants) and Champ Summers (New York Yankees) can also be seen. Soccer great Ruben Mendoza's U.S. Olympic sport coat was recently added to the collection.

Many of the trophies won by Dottie Jones McMullen for her efforts in golf, bowling and softball are also on display, as well as softball player Junior Poole's plaques for his inductions into both the Missouri and Illinois Sports Halls of Fame.

One of the more unique items is a softball autographed by the team that won the first Granite City Beer League over-35 slow pitch championship almost 50 years ago. Visitors can also find pictures, newspapers and magazine articles about the feats of the inductees.

Recent additions are the various gear of John "Yogi" Palk, coach of the world champion Fort Wayne Zoller Piston softball team; Gayle Thompson McCormick, a National AAU swimmer and diver; and Scott Blason of the St. Louis Storm.

Park District slates NFL contest

The Granite City Park District will hold a Punt, Pass and Kick competition Saturday at Wilson Park. The competition begins at 5 p.m., and it is open to anyone age 15+.

The top finishers from each of the eight age groups will advance to Carbondale for a sectional competition Oct. 30. Sectional winners will have their scores compared to other sectional champions, and the top five scorers will advance to the Chicago Bears team championship to be held at the Bears-Los Angeles Raiders game Nov. 7 at Soldier Field.

Age group champions at this level will be declared NFL Gatekeepers. The top four finishers within each age bracket from the pool of 28 team champions will qualify for the national finals, to be held at the Pro Bowl in Hawaii.

All participants must register at the Wilson Park office. For more information, call Ray Hoffman at 877-3059.

least the first game with a broken finger. Coolidge will use a basic 1-formation offense with a wingback. Yates said, and the offense will be based on quick-developing plays.

"At this age, the players aren't as big and strong as they will be at the high school level," Yates said. "We hope to use players that develop more quickly because it is tougher for eighth-grade boys to sustain their blocks necessary in long-developing plays."

Edwardsville is expected to run the option out of the T-formation. Yates also said he expects the Edwardsville griders to feature good team speed — the team's trademark in the past. But he did not want to predict the outcome of the game.

"You never know what you have until after the first game," he said. "We have had some really good practice time, but it doesn't compare to competition."

"In the first game of the season, no one can expect a 100 percent offense to click 100 percent, you just hope the boys start to mesh with each other as quickly as possible."

year. "We're hoping to get (Kessler) back," Baker said. "It's day-to-day."

The Warriors hope to have Kessler back in time for Thursday's home game against CBC. The Cadets are ranked first in the St. Louis area after winning their own tournament.

OATH to hold golf tourney at Legacy

The OATH Golf Classic, a four-person scramble to benefit the developmentally disabled, will be held Oct. 15 at the Legacy Golf Club.

The tournament will begin at 8 a.m. A donation of $75 per person covers 18 holes of golf, cart, lunch, beverages and prizes. For more information, call 876-3178.

Records sought for GCHS baseball

Information on Granite City High School baseball is being researched to compile an all-time record for the history of the program. Anyone who has the records of the 1920-29, 29-30, 30-40-41 and 46-47 teams is encouraged to call Gus Lignoul at 452-3339.

Eagles baseball holding tryouts Saturday

The St. Louis Eagles, the County National Baseball League Blue Division champions, are holding tryouts Saturday for juvenile age boys.

For more information, call Dennis at 314-645-1221 between 4:30-9:30 p.m.

Fisher rushed for 147 yards and also scored twice. Harris accounted for Granite City's other touchdown, a 5-yard run.

"He did a good job," Coach Harris said of his son. "Our offensive execution was real good, which made (Quincy) susceptible to the play-action pass. Fisher had a super game."

Granite City's line paved the way for Fisher, Chris Kull and Pat Curry. Harris singled out guards Nathan Owen and Jeremy Wyatt for praise.

"Our line did a good job," Harris said. "They were opening up some holes."

Meanwhile, the defense held up after Quincy's first touchdown. The Warriors took a 12-6 lead into halftime, and they only scoring in the third quarter came on Koberna's second safety.

Granite City reached the end zone twice in the fourth quarter. The Warriors outgained the Blue Devils 234-146.

"I felt the defense played pretty well," Harris said. "It settled down and contained pretty well, and our hitting picked up."

Tri-City champs to be determined this weekend

Season championships will be decided this Saturday as Tri-City Speedway presents the Clark Oil Night of Champions.

Several drivers in five different classes are vying for the season points championships at the half-mile dirt track. They'll compete in a full slate of heat races and trophy dashes.

The climax of the evening will be 25-lap feature events for the Allied Auto Racing Association Modifieds, Limited Sportsmen and Street Stock divisions. The Tri-City Speedway Pro Stocks and 360 Winged Sprint Cars will also contest 25-lap features.

Spectator gates open at 4 p.m. with hot laps beginning at 7 p.m. and racing at 7:30 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 15
The feeling of being off-key can be attributed to the coming new moon. Avoid forcing new starts—you're not emotionally or physically ready. The sun favoring Pluto gets you into touch with long-buried inner resources.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You have financial power and are willing to use it. Make sure your insurance policies are up-to-date. Your heart battles with your head about a recent relationship.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You can judge your actions by taking matters into your heart. Financial prospects look excellent, though you need to guard against creating tax problems for yourself.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21): You must deal with property matters now, and that might mean letting go of a useless plot of land. You can rise to the occasion.

CANCER (June 22-July 22): Progress can be made in seemingly impossible situations. There's nothing wrong with letting others know they are needed.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You feel better after having a cheerful chat with someone you respect or love. A partnership may be more costly than anticipated. Justice prevails.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Sept. 15): You get to blaze this year. Paddle in new routines, and search for a fresh direction in life. Your relationships take on added significance in October and through '94. Happiness will come in November, when you break the worry habit. You'll get excellent tangible results in December and February, when networking leads to the financial pot of gold. You'll make satisfying partnerships in April.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): If you have to go against tradition to be yourself, the time has come. Take the stress out of relationships by designing rules you both can live with. Life rewards you when you give others a helping hand.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23): A paradox: Someday, millions will read your words, and yet you shall be anonymous! Your ability to mediate makes you friends with opposing parties. Try not to blow relationship issues out of proportion. Be visible in public.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21): Be willing to accept the olive branch if it's offered. Trust your intuition over reason. Practical items sell. It's wise to form alliances with influential friends or colleagues.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Keep a variety of business options available. There's no point in having creative talents if they are hidden. Once again, you have the chance to travel. You get your way when you appeal to others' sense of fairness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Wait a while longer if you have doubts about what to do next. You have to understand the problem before you can overcome it. If all else fails, keep changing your approach until you come up with a solution that works.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Remember, you only have one chance to make a first impression. Resist the temptation to wander too far off your budget. Life is teaching you the value of having patience, and you're becoming a great student. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You must respect your partner's ways if you expect the relationship to turn for the better. Trips to the hair dresser go well, so be sure to tip generously!

St. Elizabeth Ladies Sodality plans trip to Branson Oct. 2, 3

Kathy Mangi, president of the St. Elizabeth Ladies Sodality, chaired the Aug. 24 meeting attended by 42 members and one guest, Cleo Schaefer.

Further details and planning by committee members Norma Kwiatkowski and Maggie Grohowski are under way for a 25th anniversary reception for Father Francis Tebasgura after the evening Mass on Dec. 4.

A trip to Branson will be made on Oct. 2 and 3 by 34 members. A schedule of events will include a ride on the "Duck," a dinner at the Peppercorn Restaurant, the Jim Stafford Show, Mass at Our Lady of the Lake Catholic Church, and a tour of the Precious Moments Chapel in Carthage, Mo.

Several seats are still available on the bus for this trip. If interested call Jan Polach.

The Ladies Sodality voted again this year to donate $1,000 to the Learning Center at St. Elizabeth School under the direction of Lori Silva.

Workshops and further plans are being made to get ready for the church's Christmas Bazaar to be held on Saturday, Nov. 13, in the cafeteria.

The prizes for the evening were awarded as follows: Quilt of the Month to Max Prusack, attendance to Julie Bonds, Madonna to Evelyn Grohowski, and Pot of Gold to Gertrude Rutkowski.

Hostesses of this meeting were Olga Johnson, Cindy Whitt and Kathy Mangi. Those serving next month will be Julie Bonds and Kathy Lickenbrock.

Banking rules counterproductive?

By Roger McGrath
Correspondent

Tough new bank regulations and the "recycling" of the assets of failed financial institutions have choked off bank lending, thus slowing economic growth. That has long been the position of the business community.

Now an analysis by two economists at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago supports that argument. With the failures of banks and savings and loans reaching epidemic proportions, federal bank regulators in the mid-1980s began mandating higher capital requirements. These funds, stated as a percentage of assets, or loans outstanding, are a reserve to cover unexpected losses.

"To realize their full profit potential through growth, banks must now maintain significantly higher capital ratios than they did a decade ago," economists

Herbert Baer and John McElravey wrote in "Economic Perspectives," a publication of the Chicago Fed.

To meet the capital requirements in place in mid-1991, the banking industry needed additional capital of $65 billion, the economists calculated.

One way to raise capital is to sell stock. Bankers haven't done that because, according to one study, each $1 in new stock reduces by 26 cents the value of existing shares.

Other options: Allocate more of annual profit to the capital account, shrink the asset base or reduce the riskiness of the loan portfolio. The banking community has opted for a combination of these moves.

Meanwhile, regulators have been pushing capital requirements ever higher. Just 5 percent in 1981, the minimum set in 1992 was 6 percent. Requirements based on the riskiness of the loan portfolio could add another point to the total, the economists say.

Asset "recycling," the sale of the assets of failed financial institutions, further exacerbates the capital requirement situation, Baer and McElravey claim. If the purchasing bank meets only the minimum capital requirement, the addition of these loans to the portfolio will require additional capital.

To recycle the $316.4 billion in assets waiting to be recycled in mid-1991, the banking industry needed $22 billion in additional capital, the economists claim.

Regulators' new capital requirements needed another $22 billion. Banks already lacked the capital required by $11 billion; losses consumed $10 billion.

How have bankers raised those funds? By raising the price of credit and reducing the return on deposits, Baer and McElravey claim.

Surplus food distribution dates, sites set

Surplus food commodities will be distributed at four area sites this month.

Chouteau Township officials and senior citizens will be giving out surplus government food commodities at the Chouteau Township Social Center, located at 906 North Thorngate Drive in Mitchell.

The commodities will be distributed at 8 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 15.

Commodities will be distributed Wednesday, Sept. 22, by Venice Township at Engelbert Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue, Madison, starting at 8 a.m.

Commodities will also be given Wednesday, Sept. 22, at Nameoki Township, 450 Highway 162, beginning at 7 a.m., and the Salvation Army, 3007 E. 23rd St., beginning at 8 a.m.

All will be distributing cornmeal, butter, apple juice, vegetables, beans, fruit cocktail, orange juice, peaches, peanut butter, raisins and peas.

All products will be given out on a first-come, first-served basis. Cheese is very limited, with only one package per household, regardless of size.

To be eligible to receive commodities, the recipient must be a resident of the township; be the head of the household or spouse; have verification of residency; have identification; and sign an affidavit that their total household income is within the following guidelines:

One person, monthly income, $726; 2 persons, $862; 3 persons, $1,239; 4 persons, $1,495; 5 persons, $1,751; 6 persons, $2,007; 7 persons, $2,263; 8 persons, $2,520; and for each additional member, another $256.

There is no discrimination regarding race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

Who provides the most high quality physical therapy rehab services in the entire metro area?

MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

For over 30 years, Memorial has been this area's recognized leader in innovative physical therapy rehab services with the most skilled and experienced therapists available to help get you back on track again.

Perhaps you're a "weekend athlete" who played a little too hard, or are suffering from arthritic pain or need expert help in recuperating from an accident-related injury. If so, the experienced therapy professionals of Memorial's Physical Therapy Services have over 170 years of combined expertise to help get you back to work...to play...to living!

Memorial's physical therapy rehab services are conveniently located at Memorial Hospital and Memorial Convalescent Center, as well as at close to home offices in west Belleville and Collinsville. Memorial Home Care also offers physical therapy services to assist patients making the transition from a hospital or convalescent center to home.

When you need advanced physical therapy rehab services, don't you deserve the area's most experienced therapists, latest treatment techniques, and state-of-the-art equipment? We think so. Call 233-7750, extension 5250.

Crystal McGlaun turns 11

Crystal McGlaun turned 11 years old on Aug. 20. She celebrated her birthday at Honey-bend Resort in Litchfield, Ill. Activities included games, swimming, fishing, paddle boats and miniature golf.

The theme was 101 Dalmatians. They roasted hot dogs, and ate chips and dip, snacks, ice cream, punch, and cake, which had dalmatians on it.

In attendance were her parents, Angie and Ron McGlaun; her brother, Keith McGlaun;

June Baker; Ashley and Melanie Taylor; Aunt Linda; Jesse and Lisa Stenitzer; Uncle Mark; Aunt Pam Wiesehan; and children, Amanda Patten, Nicole Voss, Jamie Alexander; Crystal and Vera Davis and their mother, Gerry; Alaina Foreys, Mike Busch, Kim Bennett, Michelle and Cathy Haverman and Steven and Stephanie Smith.

Out-of-town guests were Mary Jo Hale, her grandmother; Anthony Hale; and Kim White, all from California.

Holy Family Young at Heart hold meeting

Holy Family Young at Heart held its monthly meeting Aug. 16.

The meeting was called to order by President Margaret Kwiatkowski. In the absence of Sister Margaret Mary, spiritual adviser, President Kwiatkowski led the members in prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Cecelia Mance, recording secretary, and the treasurer's report was given by Cleola Siebert. Cecelia Cruse, correspondence secretary, read several thank you notes and cards received from members. She also read a letter received from the Parish Pastoral Council of Holy Family.

In the absence of Loraine Parkinson, friendship chairman, Cecelia Cruse reported mailing one sympathy card, one get-well card and one 50th anniversary card to members of the club.

Elizabeth McCoy, membership chairman, reported 86 members in attendance. The publicity report was given by Ann Kovach.

Kwiatkowski thanked Kathy Mathes and Rose Mary Rudy, refreshment chairmen. They, in turn, thanked members who helped them serve, set up and furnish the refreshments.

Irma Manning, trip chairman, reported on a trip to be made to Steelville, Mo., for a country western stage show Sept. 18, a day on the Casino Queen Sept. 23; Golden Rod Showboat trip rescheduled for Oct. 20; a trip to Sikeston, Mo., Nov. 11; and a Christmas show at Steelville, Mo., Dec. 19.

Warren Bequette and George Sotiroff thanked and acknowledged members that helped work at the flea market during the Holy Family June Festival, and Kwiatkowski thanked those that helped in the cake booth.

Kwiatkowski announced a women's retreat to be held at Kings House in Belleville Sept. 21 through Sept. 23. Anyone wishing to attend should contact Margaret Kwiatkowski, chairman for the group, from Holy Family.

She also spoke on the Holy Family Parish Pastoral Council election on Sept. 18 and 19. On these two days, after each Mass,

Eagles 1126 donate to flood relief

President Barbara Modrusic of the Granite City Eagles Auxiliary 1126 presented $100 to the Salvation Army for assistance with the flood victims in the Tri-City area.

Mickey Smith of the Salvation Army attended the meeting and spoke to the auxiliary. Aerie and auxiliary members also donated cleaning supplies and other various items. Several members manned the fish bowl for the Salvation Army at various spots in the Granite City community for their weekend fund raiser for flood victims.

Smith thanked the auxiliary for all of their assistance and hard work for the past donations and also for assistance in any of their programs. Several of the auxiliary members attend the Salvation Army's senior citizens group and are very active in aiding the Salvation Army.

Girl Scout troop travels to Branson

Cadette Girl Scout Troop 275 recently took an extended trip to Branson, Mo.

The girls had earned all of their money for the trip through funds earned at the annual cookie sale as well as other fund raisers.

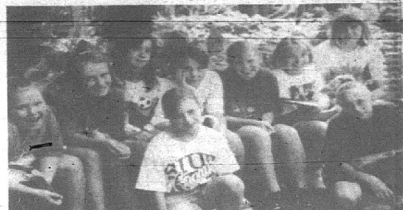

The first night they held a birthday party for Amy Cox, one of the troop members. They enjoyed a pizza party at the motel swimming pool.

The next day they went to Silver Dollar City. They enjoyed the crafts as well as the amusement rides.

The troop spent one day at White Waters. They also rode go-carts, bumper boats and played miniature golf. The girls also enjoyed the 70-foot water slide at the motel.

The members of the troop are Mary Biller, Stephanie Cain, Amy Cox, Pamela Krupco, Cheyenne Modglin, Kristi Robinson, Lila Sabol, Stephanie Smiddy and Angelica Westbrook.

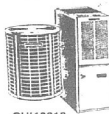

The troop leaders accompanying the girls were Ruth Biller, Glenda Cox, Martha Hillebrand and Lila Krupco.

there will be an opportunity for members of each organization of Holy Family to explain just what each club has done, is doing, and hopes to do for the parish community. This will be a good time to promote the Young at Heart Club and an opportunity for potential members. Anyone interested in helping at the booth, may contact Kwiatkowski. Plants donated by member Frances Peate as attendance prizes were won by Viola Lidner, Marge Noth, Kathryn Obuchna, Ruth McClew and Winnie Kelly. Other attendance prizes were won by George Sotiroff, Veronica Pafich, Bertha Spedler, Terry Hanneman, Ann Kovach, John Juhasz, Gertrude Barkley, Fran Gruber, Irene Kadaneec and Louise Gwasdec.

Member Gertrude Barkley, a poet in her own right, entertained the group by reciting several delightful poems she had written.

President Kwiatkowski announced a soup meal with cream bread and dessert to be served at the Sept. 20 meeting at 6 p.m. For those not wishing to attend the soup meal, the regular meeting will begin at 7 p.m. The remainder of the evening was spent playing games.
